3. Disclosures and Confidentiality

Following procedure should be followed for disclosure of the IP by the inventors.

- a. For all the IP produced and developed at the institute, i.e. NITSRI, the inventors have to disclose the IP to Dean (R&C) in a proper format (IP disclosure form) at the earliest. With this disclosure, the inventors would assign the rights of the IP to the institute. Similarly, the students of the institute are expected to submit their IP disclosure form along with their thesis work (B.Tech, M.Tech or PhD) properly signed and forwarded by their supervisor. It would be the responsibility of the institute to maintain the confidentiality of the IP once it has been submitted to the committee for evaluation for assessment for filing and possibility of commercialization.
- b. For all the IP generating from the externally funded projects and collaborative project, the IP disclosure shall be done as per the contract terms and conditions.

4. Revenue Sharing

- a. Upon commercialization of the intellectual property developed at the institute, the revenue generated by the royalty payments would be shared between the institute and the inventors with a respective percent sharing of 40% by the institute and 60% by the inventor.
- b. In case of multiple owners of the IP other than the institute, the owners shall come to an agreement before filing the IP as to how to share the revenue.

5. Conflict of Interest and Jurisdiction

It is the responsibility of the inventors to disclose any conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest prior to applying for evaluation to the institute's committee. In case of any dispute, the aggrieved party may contact the Director NITSRI. In all circumstances, the decision taken by the Director NITSRI would be final and abiding by all. All the agreements or contracts signed by NITSRI will be under the Srinagar jurisdiction.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY, SRINAGAR
July, 2018

1. General

Testing and consultancy projects are important tools to achieve the objectives of technical education. Therefore as a matter of policy, the institute consciously encourages its faculty members to undertake these works. The faculty members of various departments of the institute are permitted to engage themselves in testing and consultancy practice to such extent which will not interfere with the discharge of their duties and within such limits as the institute lay down from time to time. All testing and consultancy services whether carried out by an individual or a group of faculty members irrespective of the quantum of facilities availed, is considered as official for which prior approval of the competent authority is required.

2. Research and Consultancy Cell

Consultancy services being rendered by the institute to various industries, private and public sector units and Govt. organizations have been a perennial source of its internal revenue generation. Keeping in view the huge potential that exists in area of testing and consultancy, and to give it a further boost by promoting such activities at the institute level, a Research and Consultancy Cell which is headed by Dean Research and Consultancy (R&C) needs to be strengthened in the institute. This Cell shall be responsible for development and monitoring of such activities, undertake periodical review and subsequently suggest measures from time to time and ensure smooth conduct of these activities in a time bound manner. Dean (R&C) will collect all relevant details from the departments regarding different available testing/consultancy specializations along with nominated Officer Incharge/(s) and put it on institute website so that it will be easy for the client to check the availability of particular testing/consultancy facility in the institute. Moreover Dean (R&C) shall coordinate all such activities so that a uniform policy is adopted.

3. Methodology for undertaking testing/ consultancies services

For allocating the Testing & Consultancy works to faculty/staff member(s), following methodology shall be adopted:

- i. The request letter from the clients for availing the testing/ consultancy services of the institute shall be addressed to the Dean R&C which shall subsequently be forwarded to the concerned Head of the Department.
- ii. The Head of the Department on receipt of such requests shall nominate the Officer Incharge from amongst the faculty members of the department having specialization/expertise in the relevant field. The consultancy offer shall be examined by the consultant/(s).
- iii. The Head of the Department concerned will ensure even distribution of the consultancy assignments amongst the faculty/ staff member(s) in the department so that all the faculty/staff member(s) of a particular specialization in a department get consultancy work. Normally consultancy works should be carried out in a team manner involving persons belonging to the field of specializations. The technical and academic responsibility of the consultancy work carried out shall lie on the consultancy team. The HOD can be a member of consultancy team only for consultancy work of his/her specialization.
- iv. The consultancy proposal including scope of work of the consultant and the client as well as budget including institutional charges, GST and other taxes as applicable needs to be submitted through Head of the Department to Dean (R&C) along with endorsement format (Annexure "A"). Technical Education Quality Improvement Programme- Phase III

Implementation Agency: National Project Implementation Unit, Ministry of Human Resource Development.

National Institute of Technology Srinagar has been selected for the third phase of the World Bank assisted Technical Education Quality Improvement Programme (TEQIP-III).

Introduction:

The Project, Third phase of Technical Education Quality Improvement Programme (referred to as TEQIP-III) is fully integrated with the Twelfth Five-year Plan objectives for Technical Education as a key component for improving the quality of Engineering Education in existing institutions with a special consideration for Low Income States and Special Category States (SCS) and support to strengthen few affiliated technical universities to improve their policy, academic and management practices.

Project Objectives:

The goals of TEQIP-III are, better academic standards, through accreditation, training faculty in better teaching methods, qualification up gradation, improved research outputs in institution. Also to incorporate better systems for assessment of student learning, through which to produce high quality engineers with better employability. The focus is to strengthen the UG/PG labs, so that students are ready to cater the needs of industry and increasing enrollment and starting new programmes. In addition, the project also supports to enhance the skills of technical and administrative staff. IIT Kharagpur has been selected as mentor institute to participate in twinning arrangements for knowledge transfer, exchange of experience, optimizing the use of resources and developing long-term strategic partnerships.

The Project will focus on the following objectives:

- Improving quality and equity in engineering institutions in focus states viz. 7 Low Income States (LIS), eight states in the North-East of India, three Hill states viz. Himachal Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir, Uttarakhand and Andaman and Nicobar Islands (a union territory (UT))
- System-level initiatives to strengthen sector governance and performance which include widening the scope of Affiliating Technical Universities (ATUs) to improve their policy, academic and management practices towards affiliated institutions, and
- Twinning Arrangements to Build Capacity and Improve Performance of institutions and ATUs participating in focus states.

Project Strategy

- The project will be implemented in alignment with the 12th Five Year Plan (2012-17), based on faster, sustainable, and inclusive growth. It emphasizes increasing the supply of highly-skilled workers to drive the economy, as well as helping low-income states catch up with their more advanced neighbours.
- The Project will be implemented through the Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD) of the Government of India as a Central Sector Scheme (CSS), wherein 100% funds will be provided as grants to the States, Institutions & ATUs.
- The funding pattern details with respect to Government funded, Government aided institutions and ATUs are given in Section 6.
- A set of Government orders for States and UTs is to be issued to achieve a high and sustained impact of the Project. These orders are to give the project institutions adequate decision making powers that will enable and encourage them to deliver quality education and undertake research in an efficient manner. The primary focus is to increase empowerment of institutions for self-governance and create incentives for achieving excellence in engineering education.
- The project institutions will be required to implement academic and non-academic reforms within their self-conceived development programmes that focus on quality and relevance, excellence, resource mobilization, greater institutional autonomy with accountability, research and equity.
- Professional development programmes for engineering-education policy planners, administrators and implementers at the Central, State and University levels will be organized. The Project will also support development of more efficient governance activities.
- The Project will lay major emphasis on monitoring and evaluation. The prime responsibility of monitoring will lie with the institutions themselves. The management structure at the Institutional level i.e. the Board of Governors (BoG) along with Head of the institution will monitor the progress of Institutional projects on a regular basis and provide guidance for improving the performance of institution in project implementation. The information from project institutions will be collected through a scalable web-based Management Information System (MIS). State Governments will also regularly monitor and evaluate the progress of institutions. The Government of India and the World Bank will conduct bi-annual Joint Reviews of the Project with assistance from the National Project Implementation Unit (NPIU). The monitoring will be based on Institutional Development Proposals (IDPs) and Action Plans for ATUs prepared by each project institution and achievements will be measured through a set of performance indicators. The monitoring will focus on implementation of reforms by institutions, achievements in project activities under different sub-components, procurement of resources and services, utilization of financial allocations and achievements in faculty and staff development and management development activities.

- In the project, the technical assistance to AICTE is planned which will include designing an assessment system to track student learning at different points of the undergraduate program. Surveys of students, faculty, non-teaching staff and administrators will deepen insight into how institutes address specific problems related to student learning. Assessments will be designed to provide feedback to institutes on how and where to improve, without putting undue pressure on students.
- In this project, the fund will be linked to the Disbursement Linked Indicators (DLIs) and will be disbursed only after achieving and verification of some of the indicators.

Project Design

TEQIP seeks to enhance quality and equity in participating engineering education institutions and improve the efficiency of the engineering education system in focus states. The Project will support two components:

Component - 1: Improving quality and equity in engineering institutions in focus states

Sub-component 1.1 : Institutional Development for Participating Institutions

An estimated 90 Engineering Education institutions meeting (progressively) the enabling mechanisms and based on meeting minimum standards in quality of Institutional Development Proposals (IDPs), will be selected. Institutions are required to define the activities in their IDP that they want to carry out in the project. These activities should be under the scope of the project and are those that fulfil the objectives of the project. However, some of the suggested activities under the scope of the project are given below:

- Procurement of Goods (equipment, furniture, books LRs, software and minor items) and minor civil works.
- Improvement in Teaching, Learning and Research competence.
 - Improve student learning
 - Student employability
 - Increasing faculty productivity and motivation
 - Establishing a twinning system
 - Twinning arrangements with high performing institutions under Sub-component 1.3 to build capacity and improved performance
 - Recruitment and retention of high quality faculty (through better faculty appraisal systems and the faculty recruitment plan). (Consultant services if required, can also be procured for the above said activities.)

Component - 2: System Level initiatives to strengthen sector governance and performance

This component will support MHRD and key apex bodies in engineering education, including AICTE and NBA, to strengthen the overall system of engineering education. The activities are:

- Provide technical assistance to AICTE and NBA
- Professional development of Technical Education and TEQIP administrators in the project States and project institutions
- Initiatives for Effective Governance System of institutions at the level of Board of Governors
- Implementing Direct Benefit Transfer System to ensure fund transfer electronically to SPIUs and institutions, and
- Project monitoring & evaluation
- All institutes and ATUs in the Project, as well as those government and government-aided institutes that participated in TEQIP I and/or II but are not participating in TEQIP III and ATUs not part of the Project, will be linked to the National Knowledge Network. Last mile connectivity will be provided by the Project.
- 24x7 broadband connectivity and Wi-Fi access in all academic and administrative buildings and hostels.
- Developing or establishing technology learning centers at all universities which affiliate engineering colleges

The inventor can also suggest the names of members of required expertise that can evaluate the creativity, originality and innovativeness of the invention. The objectives of the committee would be following:

- a. To determine and assign the ownership of the IP. It is up to the committee to decide whether the ownership would be restricted to an individual, institute (institute projects) or a joint ownership in case of externally funded project.
- b. To evaluate the IP on the scale of originality, usefulness, and practicability of the invention.

For theses and dissertation reports related to academic activity, the students will hold the ownership rights. However, the students should give a royalty-free right to NITSRI to use the reports for academic purposes, as and when required. An agreement for the same must be included in the theses properly signed by the student, department head and Dean R&C. Moreover, in case an application has been made for grant of IP and not yet granted, an agreement for thesis confidentiality at the time of thesis submission should also be included.

2.3. Obtaining Rights:

- b. The institute shall bear all the costs related to access of IP databases, for IP search, prior art etc.
- c. The institute shall also bear the expenses for drafting and filing the IP application. This also includes the cost for filing overseas applications. In any case, if the institutional committee decides against the IP evaluation, all these costs have to be borne by the inventor personally.

3. Disclosures and Confidentiality

Following procedure should be followed for disclosure of the IP by the inventors.

- a. For all the IP produced and developed at the institute, i.e. NITSRI, the inventors have to disclose the IP to Dean (R&C) in a proper format (IP disclosure form) at the earliest. With this disclosure, the inventors would assign the rights of the IP to the institute. Similarly, the students of the institute are expected to submit their IP disclosure form along with their thesis work (B.Tech, M.Tech or PhD) properly signed and forwarded by their supervisor. It would be the responsibility of the institute to maintain the confidentiality of the IP once it has been submitted to the committee for evaluation for assessment for filing and possibility of commercialization.
- b. For all the IP generating from the externally funded projects and collaborative project, the IP disclosure shall be done as per the contract terms and conditions.

4. Revenue Sharing

- a. Upon commercialization of the intellectual property developed at the institute, the revenue generated by the royalty payments would be shared between the institute and the inventors with a respective percent sharing of 40% by the institute and 60% by the inventor.
- b. In case of multiple owners of the IP other than the institute, the owners shall come to an agreement before filing the IP as to how to share the revenue.

5. Conflict of Interest and Jurisdiction

It is the responsibility of the inventors to disclose any conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest prior to applying for evaluation to the institute's committee. In case of any dispute, the aggrieved party may contact the Director NITSRI. In all circumstances, the decision taken by the Director NITSRI would be final and abiding by all.
